"The State of American Trade Policy"

Philip Levy Resident Scholar at the American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research (AEI)

The American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research (AEI) is a conservative think tank founded in 1943. Its stated mission is "to defend the principles and improve the institutions of American freedom and democratic capitalism—limited government, private enterprise, individual liberty and responsibility, vigilant and effective defence and foreign policies, political accountability, and open debate."

Philip I. Levy's work in AEI's Program in International Economics ranges from free trade agreements and trade with China to antidumping policy. Prior to joining AEI, he worked on international economics issues as a member of the secretary of state's Policy Planning Staff. Philip Levy also served as an economist for trade on the President's Council of Economic Advisers and taught economics at Yale University.
